Announcements

The vice-chair, Ikenna Anyikam introduces himself and he gives a brief introduction as he calls the meeting to order at 7:48pm. He commends the programs chair and other members of the board for a successful bowling event organized at the university center games room. He talks about the upcoming NSBE national convention coming up next semester (Spring 2007) and how it was a very good way to expand your network and get internships or full-time job opportunities.

Joshua Situka, the input leader talks about other event ideas coming up for the rest of the academic year and members gave suggestions such as a movie night or paint balling.

Corin Williams was also called upon to give members a brief run-down of how the FRC weekend was and he explained the weekend in a sequential order from Friday night to Sunday with the aid of a picture slide. He also demonstrated the chant he came up with for the convention with help from three other members who participated in the weekend which was a great success as some members got instant interviews and offers.

Colling Metu, The Chair also gives a brief talk about the up-coming national convention as he introduces our two guest speakers; Perry Mason, A former chair of NSBE who now works fulltime for Accenture, and Daniel Morris who also works at Accenture, he graduated with a B.S. in Accounting and MIS.

The guest speakers gave a short introduction and the opened the floor for open discussions and questions from the members.

Meeting was adjourned at 9:15 pm.
